Job Description

Delvendahl Martin Architects is looking for a highly motivated and talented architect to join our growing team.

We are looking for a friendly and approachable person who can take design initiative on projects with confidence and professionalism. Advanced digital visualisation skills, complemented with hand sketching and an elegant graphic sensibility are essential to help convey ideas for competitions and projects at early stages.

Career development and further study is actively encouraged and the role offers the opportunity to develop and become an integral member of the team.

- Minimum of 2 years experience of UK work
- Excellent design and advanced digital visualisation skills
- Solid construction and technical knowledge.
- Excellent collaborator with good communication skills
- The practice uses Vectorworks so experience in the program would be a plus.

Please send a digital copy of your CV and portfolio with a cover letter stating your professional ambitions and a short summary of what you could contribute to the practice addressed to Andrew Batt at people@dm-architects.co.uk (maximum 10MB). Salary will be commensurate with experience.

Shortlisted candidates will be invited for interview.
